

FINAL DOCUMENT PROCESSING

In today's highly regulated environment, ensuring that collateral files are complete and perfected is the first step in protecting investments and reducing overall cost of servicing, as well as associated risk factors during the life of the loan. NTC's dedicated team of subject matter experts incorporate industry best practices. We partner with our clients and the leading document custodians to make document collection and delivery an efficient and effective process.

Not only will partnering with NTC save time and money, but will also mitigate life of loan issues and downstream related expenses. As a leading post-closing services provider, we partner with you to strategically build a complete trailing document process that's the right fit. NTC offers peace of mind knowing that the process is under control, risks are mitigated and overall costs are lowered.

SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Complete document intake
